VOLUME 04:2018

We have just celebrated our 2018 Annual Fundraiser which included a Silent Auction and Raffle and, once again, with the help and contributions of many volunteers, solicitors and attendees, it was a great success ...

THANK YOU!!!

The DCW Board and volunteer members that orchestrated the entire event deserve an "all-expenses paid" cruise to recover from the time and effort required coordinating our fundraiser. Please be sure you let each one of them know how much their efforts are appreciated.

And now we head into Spring which brings us warmer weather, Easter, the Masters, Spring Festivals and the Triple Crown Races. Unfortunately, it also means we only have one more luncheon before our summer break, so mark your calendars for May 24th for Ray's on the River. Ray's was such a big hit this past Fall we decided to return. You will be pleased to know the cash bar prices will be adjusted to our normal luncheon prices (wine $7/cocktails $8) instead of premium call brands.

Another date to remember is Monday, November 12th, when our Annual Holiday Bazaar will be held at the Hilton Atlanta Airport hotel on Virginia Avenue. For those flying in, you will have access to hotel transportation. The hotel will also offer complimentary self-parking the day of the event as well as for those who book a room the night before. All returning vendors have confirmed plus there is still room for new exhibitors. If you know of someone that was not able to get in last year or perhaps someone new who offers new types of items, please have them contact RoyAnne (contact info below).

SEE YOU IN MAY!!!

INTO THE FUTURE

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR GRAND PRIZE WINNER JENNY FRICKS

Two Confirmed Main Cabin Tickets | Within US50 & Canada (excluding Transcon) | Tier 2 | $1,000 cash

Have you ever heard ... "All progress takes place outside the comfort zone"? Well, that is exactly what Delta Clipped Wings did on March 23rd. We blasted INTO THE FUTURE so we could continue contributing funds to our four worthwhile charities.

Each of you that helped, in any way, should be proud of our accomplishments at this year's Fundraiser - whether you were a worker bee, a solicitor or fundraiser attendee - we couldn't have done it without your support!

Thanks to ALL! There are too many to mention by name, but you know who you are. We appreciate every one of you for your energy and dedication to DCW.

All proceeds from this event benefit our charities.

All progress takes place outside the comfort zone. I've learned to say yes to things that scare me. To live this life to the fullest and to always be ready for the challenge (because that's where the cool stuff happens).
~ Michael John Bobak, Digital Artist ~

An old man was going for a walk when he noticed a little boy feeding bits of bread to a thin, shaggy dog.
He went up to the boy and asked him why he was sharing his bread with the dog.
The little boy answered, "Because they have nothing. No home, no family, and if I don't feed them they will die."
But there are homeless dogs everywhere," the old man replied, "so your efforts don't really make a difference."
The little boy looked at the dog, stroked him and said, "but for this little dog, it makes all the difference in the world."

PILLOWS, BLANKETS AND MAGAZINES

On March 19th, Marty Gardner's husband, Jim, sent us the following: I had to put Marty in assisted living today ... the saddest thing I've ever had to do. It just got to be too much for me to handle and I wanted her to have the best care possible. From what I can tell, they are very caring and will look out for her best interests. After checking a few places, I got a good feeling for this facility.

Marty was DCW President 1973-1974 | FA class 11/01/1954.

Address for Marty: Arbor Terrace, 886 Johnson Ferry Rd. - Room 20, Marietta, GA 30068

Home address and Jim's email: 3371 Turtle Lake Dr., Marietta, GA 30067 | mailforjim@yahoo.com

Joyce Hoepfner Walton's husband, Buzz, had open heart surgery on March 12th. We received the following update from Joyce on March 24th: Buzz is still in the hospital where he is doing PT every day. He will probably remain here for another two more weeks and then, hopefully, return home and have a home health care service take over.

It's been very hard for him to do the PT workouts with the constant headaches and his lung fibrosis which was caused by the severe pneumonia he's had since October. They can't seem to get his coughing under control which doesn't help with the pain from the headaches.

We thank everyone for their prayers, cards, emails and phone calls. We really appreciate the wonderful Delta family we all love. Joyce

THANK YOU to our Co-Vice Presidents, Programs ~ Fundraiser

Thank You Kathy and Retta

for spearheading the move to GiveSmart Mobile Bidding for our fundraiser.

We knew it was going to be a challenge.

We know you had sleepless nights, wondering if members would embrace and adapt to a new bid system.

MANY OF US DID and WE HAD FUN in the process.

We saw many pockets of people watching their phones while talking with friends, listening for that ding announcing...

"You have been outbid."

That ding only made us more determined to up the game and enter a higher bid. One former DCW President, who didn't have a Smartphone, came with a list and sat with a GiveSmart rep who entered her bids on a GS iPad ... she won 5 items!

We heard many comments of "this is fun and SO EASY!"

We felt a relaxed atmosphere at the event, especially since we didn't have to race from room to room to write down a higher bid we didn't have to stand in line to pay.

We had 107 successful bidders; 88 paid on their phone. We think that is a REMARKABLE testament that you were right!

WELL DONE!

DELTA EARNS SPOT ON 2018 HONOR ROLL BY CENTER FOR COMPANIES THAT CARE FOR THIRD YEAR

By Reid Davis • Delta Corporate Communications • March 15, 2018

Delta has been named to the 2018 HONOR ROLL BY COMPANIES THAT CARE, making this the third consecutive year the airline has received the recognition. The U.S. companies and organizations listed range from small to large, public, private, non-profit and for-profit but all share the similar quality of acting in socially responsible ways for their employees and communities.

Delta qualified for the award by excellently demonstrating the 10 Characteristics set forth by the non-profit, which include: considering the human toll when making business decisions, cultivating the full potential of employees, supporting the pursuit of work/life balance, sustaining an inclusive work environment founded on dignity and respect for all employees, and volunteering in the community. Two key components of the selection process are a written application and employee survey results.

"We're thrilled to receive this honor for a third straight year and are grateful for the ongoing validation of our unique workplace culture," said Joanne Smith, Delta's Executive Vice President and Chief Human Resources Officer. "Caring for others has been a big part of the Delta difference ever since the company was founded. In addition, Delta believes strongly in giving back to the communities where we live, work and serve. As a company we are committed to giving back 1% of net income each year to the community."

"Since the Honor Roll's inception 16 years ago, many things have changed in our country and our business climate, but what hasn't changed is that the companies on this list, like those before them, exemplify the best of the best," said Marci Koblenz, Co-Founder and President of CENTER FOR COMPANIES THAT CARE. "We hear about companies seeking employee engagement. Well, we believe employee engagement begins with engaged employers, such as Delta. All have remained connected with and committed to their employees and communities and take into account the human toll when making business decisions."

CENTER FOR COMPANIES THAT CARE is a national, 501(c)3 not-for-profit organization dedicated to channeling the power of businesses to dramatically increase the college graduation rate of underserved students.

10 CHARACTERISTICS OF SOCIALLY RESPONSIBLE EMPLOYERS

COMPANIES THAT CARE prize employees and are committed to community service. To sustain these values, participating companies consistently demonstrate the following 10 Characteristics in their work environment. These characteristics are the code of conduct for optimal daily business practices.

COMPANIES THAT CARE ...

1. Sustain a work environment founded on dignity and respect for all employees
2. Make employees feel their jobs are important
3. Cultivate the full potential of all employees
4. Encourage individual pursuit of work/life balance
5. Enable the well-being of individuals and their families through compensation, benefits, policies and practices
6. Develop great leaders, at all levels, who excel at managing people as well as results
7. Appreciate and recognize the contributions of people who work there
8. Establish and communicate standards for ethical behavior and integrity
9. Get involved in community endeavors and/or public policy
10. Consider the human toll when making business decisions
